

Sedum Key of Heaven

Sedum Key of Heaven is a joint entry for Best New Variety by Walter Blom Plants and Musthave Perennials.

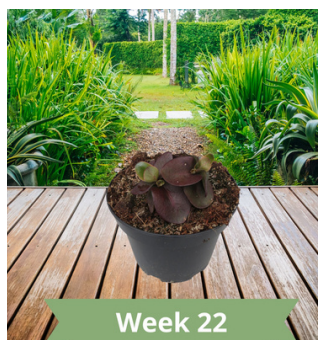

This Sedum has large leaves that change color from dark crimson red to green and become darker again towards autumn. This gives the plant absolute ornamental value beyond its flowering period. The thick, fleshy foliage is capable of storing a small water reserve, making it well-suited to withstand drier periods.

Sedum Key of Heaven blooms from July through September with strong, full pink flowers that stand out beautifully against the dark foliage. The visually appealing flowers attract butterflies and other insects, thereby contributing to biodiversity.

Sedum Key of Heaven is highly suitable for border, garden, and container planting. This novelty will be available on the market from spring 2026.
